For landing on Stonecutters Island without permission five fishermen were fined $3 each, with the alternative of fourteen days' imprisonment.

We have received from the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce a copy of the Report of the Chamber (with various appendices) for the year ending December 31, 1892.

SIXTEEN men who had been found in a gambling den at 57 East Street were brought before Capt. Hastings this morning. Two men were fined $60 each, with the alternative of three months' imprisonment. The remainder were fined $3 each, with the option of fourteen days in prison.

John Maria Corvoth, an unemployed Portuguese hailing from Macao, was convicted by Capt. Hastings at the Magistracy this morning of obtaining goods and money to the total value of $5, from a Chinese shopkeeper at 80 Queen's Road Central. He was sent to gaol for three months.

The German steamer Amigo was towed round to the Hungshon Docks this morning by the Pilot Fish. For the last two or three days the clearing out of the remains of the cargo has proceeded as expeditiously as was possible under the circumstances, and by temporarily putting the hole amidships and pumping out the water in the holds she was got afloat, and was towed in to dock with very little difficulty. The work of raising the steamer has been most arduous and difficult, and it was rendered all the more difficult by the collages of the deck some three weeks ago when the steamer had practically been floated.

A LAW voted by the Senate and Chamber just before the end of the session, modifying the law foreigners in France, is promulgated in the Journal Official. By the first law on foreigners residing in France, both children of parents in France became French. In the case of a foreigner coming to France and marrying a French wife, his children were therefore French. The law just promulgated alters that condition of the law. It stipulates that the child of a mother born in France, the father being born abroad, shall between his twenty-first and twenty-second year have the right of declining to accept French nationality. In the case of his neglecting to denounce French nationality in the legal form during that year he becomes a French subject.

The Nogee Vrenya appears to give full credence to the report that China is concentrating troops on the frontiers of Turkestan to protect her interests in the Pamirs. Some of the Vienna papers remark that the energy she is displaying on this occasion seems to show that she is advancing in military tactics, and that the hitherto defective communication between the central authorities and the provinces is at last undergoing improvement. The Nogee Vrenya asks whether the Celestial Empire is working on an understanding with England, or whether she is acting independently, and observes that the Pamir question is not regarded in Russia as the first importance. The paper adds that in disputed questions Russia has always shown a disposition towards yielding, and has distinguished herself by love of peace, as is proved by the return of Kulu to China, and the elimination affair with Afghanistan in 1885. The question of Russia's rights in the Pamirs, including Shafuan and Rochan, is already matter of history, and the taking up of arms by the Chinese is not intelligible, especially as the Pupils are in every way useless to China. In any case, the writer concludes, the menacing policy adopted by the Chinese Government will have a contrary effect to that intended. Russia will now show herself less yielding, in order to support her prestige in Central Asia—a thing which is especially necessary after the events in the Pamirs during the past few years.

A SOUDANESSE youth, aged eighteen, who is at Dr. Barnardo's Cardiff Probationary Home, and whose father was a doctor, gave to a correspondent an account of his experiences of the life of the city by the Mahdist. His father, mother, sister, and brother were killed by the enemy, and he himself was left for dead in the streets. He saw General Gordon's head being carried about Khartoum by the Arab soldiers, and the General's body thrown out of a window. The head was placed in a net and fastened to a long pole fixed in the ground in the centre of Khartoum. It used to be lowered during the day so that people could see the features plainly, and at night it was pulled up to the top of the pole.

The correspondence respecting the efforts made to obtain the extradition of Mr J. S. Balfour has been presented to Parliament. It covers the period from Feb. 22 to May 12, and consists of seventeen despatches. It appears from the correspondence that Mr Balfour was expected to arrive at Monte Video from Buenos Ayres on April 23 last in order to meet there a Mr Daniel Hill, who was a passenger from England in the steamer Foreta due at that date. At the request of the British Government, the Uruguayan Government endeavoured to arrest Mr Balfour, and the Consul of Uruguay at Monte Video was instructed to effect his capture at any cost. Mr Balfour, however, received warning of what was going on, or at the last moment found to incur the risk of leaving Argentine territory. At any rate he abandoned the trip, and Mr Daniel Hill, who duly arrived at Monte Video as expected, proceeded in the local steamer Mineiro to Buenos Ayres. Mr Hill took rooms at the Grand Hotel, where he remained for some time, but although Mr Balfour beyond doubt was at Monte Video at the time, he did not visit Mr Hill.

THE MORPHINE ORDINANCE.

INTERVIEW WITH MR J. D. HUMPHREYS.

This morning our representative went up to Mr J. D. Humphreys, of Messrs A. S. Watson & Co., Chemists, &c., to obtain his views on the Morphine Ordinance introduced at the last meeting of the Legislative Council by the Attorney General. Mr Humphreys, as the head of the largest dispensing business in Hongkong, is naturally very much interested in the Ordinance, and is very much opposed to its becoming law.

'The real reason for its adoption by the Government,' said Mr Humphreys, 'is notwithstanding the disclaimer of the Attorney General, is to protect the Opium Farm, I know the Opium Farmer has petitioned the Government against the morphine laws. They think that unless the sale of morphine and of cures for opium smoking is suppressed the revenue of the Farm will be further decreased.'

'Then they are actually legislating in favour of opium smoking?'

'That is so; although they say they are only anxious to stop a public abuse. No doubt the injection of morphine is a public abuse, and I do not seek to defend that, but they are proposing to pass a very stringent law. It must be borne in mind that other people indulge in morphine injection besides the ignorant coolie. Many people use it to relieve pain, and it would be very rough on the invalid, who used it not under medical prescription, if he could be taken up by the police and fined for using it.'

'I do not think that is intended, Mr Humphreys.'

'No, but they have the power to do so under this Ordinance. You see any person, not being a duly qualified medical practitioner or a chemist or druggist actually carrying on business as such, who shall have in his possession any morphine or any preparation of morphine' shall be liable to a fine of $100 or imprisonment for three months, with or without hard labour, unless it has been prescribed by a medical practitioner. That is of course, simply ridiculous. So far as I know the Government have not taken the advice of any chemists as to their position, and from the manner in which the Ordinance has been drawn up it is very difficult to understand it from our standpoint. Section 2 says "For the purpose of this Ordinance Morphine shall include opium and every preparation thereof." As amateur of fact morphine is contained in every preparation of opium. It is the active principle of opium. You cannot give opium without giving morphine.'

'What do you think will be the effect of Section 4?'

'That really means that no person but a qualified medical practitioner shall be allowed to do the business of a chemist or druggist, for in this an enormous business does not only in morphine but in all sorts of preparations containing it. Some business is done in hydrosyphine sprays, but not much. Messrs Watson and Co. have to supply chemists in other places. But under this Ordinance, a chemist in Hongkong could not so much as sit up a medicine chest, because to do so properly he would require to include preparations containing morphine.'

'Can you mention any drug known by the general public to illustrate your contention?'

'Well, only doctors have been allowed to sell chloroform, Powell's Balsam of Aniseed and hundreds of patent drugs which are well-known to the public for the cure of coughs and colds, diseases and dysentery.'

'Any one could get as much morphine as he liked by remitting money to any firm of chemists or druggists in England. He might even receive it by parcel post. But it is not necessary, as I have already explained, to send so far as England, to prevent a crowd of coolies using hypodermic syringes and morphine to easily live it off.'

'How could you prevent it without interfering with your business?'

'In the same way as they stop gambling. By prohibiting the keeping of morphine for the use of such syringes either by the keeper or his clients. The gambling ordinance does not interfere with persons playing in the clubs or in private houses; it merely applies to houses where coolies are induced to congregate for the benefit of proprietary interests.'

'It may sound ridiculous to speak of gambolling into a free port, but do you think it likely that if we were selling morphine and its preparations as at present, there would be nothing to be done? Any one could get as much morphine as he liked by remitting money to any firm of chemists or druggists in England.'

'The Club played 15 matches, of which ten were won, four lost, and one drawn.'

The Pavilion is in good repair, and the ground is in capital order. The Pitch has been partially resodded and the corner to the North-West which inclines to the ground by the new reclamations scheme has been turfed and will form an acceptable addition to the size of the ground. The thanks of the Club are due to the Botanical and Afforestation department for their assistance in transplanting the trees with care and skill.

There are 336 members, of whom 46 are absent from the Colony and 32 Naval Subscribers. During the year there have been 75 new members.

The London Tennis Championship Cup was won by Mr Meason, R.N., who defeated the holder H. Fluckey; the Single Tennis Handicap 'A & B' classes went to R. K. Herbert, R.N., and Dr J. Lowson respectively; and the 'Doubles' to H. Fluckey.

'The intention of the Ordinance is as explained by the Attorney General is to prevent the injection of morphine by "unqualified persons." Don't you think the Government, knowing the difficulty of suppressing the use of morphine by "unqualified persons" after it has got into their possession, have attempted to grapple with the difficulty by going to the fountain head and stopping that?

'It is an indirect step at the chemists for some reason or other. We have a great number of articles besides morphine for the cure of opium smoking, and it is supposed these will damage the Opium Farm. These cures are not largely used in this Colony. There is a retail sale for them, but they are mostly sold to people for taking into the country. That is the point, of course, that these people are substituting morphine for opium as a substitute, if they could not get their craving satisfied in any other way. Why does not the Government do my money, that is to say, the Opium Farmer? It was a great injustice to the chemists in Singapore, but it was at least gone about openly and honestly.'

This brought the interview to a conclusion.

people who are prohibited from getting the necessary supplies of morphine I dare say he will roll the prepared opium into pills and sell them ready for use.'

'Could not the morphine users have off the habit without injury to themselves?'

'If they took it in small quantities they could break it off just as a man who drinks or smokes moderately. But the larger the quantity of morphine or any other narcotic taken by them the more difficult it would be to break off, and it is not thinkable.'

'I am not thinking of the Chinese who would rather take opium as a substitute, if they could not get their craving satisfied in any other way. Why does not the Government do my money, that is to say, the Opium Farmer? It was a great injustice to the chemists in Singapore, but it was at least gone about openly and honestly.'

This brought the interview to a conclusion.

SUPREME COURT.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

(Before Mr A. G. Ware, Acting Justice of the Peace.)

Thursday, Aug. 31.

A ROW AMONG SUGAR BOILERS.

John Loegard, head panman at the Tai-koo Sugar Refinery, sued Thomas Shand, electric engineer at the same works, to recover $100 as damages for a shanty boiler which exploded.

Mr C. D. Wilkinson appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr H. Denney for the defendant.

From the evidence it appeared that a misunderstanding had arisen between the parties, and on Monday, 17th July last, they quarrelled and somewhat language was used by the defendant. In the course of cross-examination Mr David Currie was asked by Mr Denney if the sugar boilers were not a class of men who were in the habit of using strong language. Mr Currie replied that he was not going to run down the sugar-boilers—he was one himself. He was never much given to using strong language himself (laughter).

His Lordship thought the expression complained of was not actionable, when along with the rest of the conversation, which seemed to be chiefly composed of threats of violence, he dismissed the action and awarded costs to the defendant.

KONG SO WING v. WONG SOOK.

This was an action to recover $348 sent through the Man Yu Tong Hong of which the defendant was the master and owner.

Mr H. Holmes appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr C. D. Wilkinson for the defendant.

The special defence was set up that the action could not be raised as it had not been brought within the three years prescribed by the Ordinance.

His Lordship decided to hear the evidence before giving his decision on the point.

Mr Holmes stated that his client was at one time a cook in San Francisco, and through the defendant's hong, to his mother sum of $182 and $100 sums three years ago, and as these sums were not delivered to his mother he sought to recover, with interest to date. He had only recently returned to this Colony and was made aware of the fact that the money was not paid, and Mr Holmes claimed that this fact, together with the fact that a verbal promise to pay had been made by the defendant, took the case outside the scope of the Ordinance with the special defence was founded.

Evidence was then led.

The case was subsequently dismissed, and costs awarded the defendant.

HONGKONG CRICKET CLUB.

The following is the annual report of the Hongkong Cricket Club:

The Committee have the pleasure of presenting their annual report on the season 1892-1893.

The accounts which are attached show a balance of $3,260.42 to the credit of the Club on the 14th August, 1893.

The usual list of members with the bat and bowling averages for the season is annexed. It will be seen that the batting average list is headed by Mr E. Maitland, E. Coxon, and R. K. Herbert, R.N., with 71.23, 37.44, and 32.87 respectively; whilst E. J. Coxon was also most successful with the ball, taking 108 wickets at a cost of 10.56 per wicket.

Score of over 100 were made as follows:—E. Maitland, 163, 163, and 144 not out; Dr. J. A. Lowson, 103; E. J. Coxon, 104.

In response to an invitation from Shanghai, a team was sent under the presidency of Captain J. Dean, to play the Shanghai Cricket Club. The match resulted in a victory for Shanghai by 17 runs. The heat which the Club are due to the Shanghai Cricket Club and community for the hospitable reception of our representatives.

The visit will be for memorable in the annals of the Hongkong Cricket Club from the terrible disaster which overtook the team on their voyage home in the Barkar. By theounding of the ship on the Pescadores on the night of 10th October, 1892, the Club has to deplore the untimely death of the following:—Captain J. Dunn, A.S.C.; G. S. Purvis, G. G. Boyle, R.A., Major Turner, A.P.D., G. Taverne, C. Wallace, Captain Flora, Q.M.R., H. Regt., Lieut. Burnett, S.L.I., Q.M. Sergeant Jeffries, R.E., Sergeant Dogan, S.L.I., Sergeants Mansfield, S.L.I., of the Royal Engineers, and the team Dr. J. Lowson and Lieut. Markham, S.L.I. also survived. In ensuring a safety which is unique in the history of the Cricket Club and community of Shanghai as well as from the Cricket and Athletic Clubs of Singapore, Yokohama, Colombo, and innumerable private sources.

A memorial in the form of a silver shield is to be placed in the Pavilion in memory of those members of the team who lost their lives in this disaster.

The Committee has also to regret the death of Mr T. E. Davies, a very old and much respected member of the Club, and one who had been a valued member of the team.

You said you knew of a hundred of persons who used morphine or preparations from opium; where are they?

In Britain, America and on the Continent it is generally known that the principal business of chemists and druggists in the Far East is in preparing preparations of Turkish Opium, which of course, everybody knows contains from 10 to 20 per cent of morphine. It has been used there for hundreds of years as a cure for fever and ague which are so prevalent in that district. When they get "the shaks," as the common people call it, they do not go away to a duly qualified medical practitioner for a remedy. They know perfectly well what the cure is and go straight to the chemist and get their two penny worth of opium which they swallow in the form of pills. These people call it "opium" and I have met good judges of opium and I have met the Opium Farmer here there is demand for opium pills on the part of people who desire to leave off opium smoking or of the doctors.

That is it, replied Mr Humphreys. The Emperor would be the case in England. A doctor there might prescribe and administer morphine, but they may not sell it.

These things are sold by the ton all over the world by chemists and even by ordinary shopkeepers.

The intention of the Ordinance is as explained by the Attorney General is to pre-

THE CHINESE MAIL
報日字華
(Wah Ts Yat Po.)

THIS paper is now issued every day.
The subscription is fixed at Five Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Eleven Dollars Forty Cents in China, to cover postage.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction.
The chief support of the paper is of course
derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing.

The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan,—
from Australia, California, Singapore, Po-
-nang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese,—consider themselves justified in guaranteeing a large and ever-increasing circulation. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of them.

The field opens to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in tone—is almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest, while on the other it deserves every aid
that can be given to it by foreigners.
Like English journals it contains Editorials,
with Local, Shipping, and Commercial News and Advertisements.

Subscription orders for the above may be
